Selectmen's Meeting

JANE ASHLEY RESIGNS

Mrs. Jane Ashley, Mattapoisett Town Accountant for the past seven years, submitted her resignation to Mattapoisett Selectmen to be effective February 1, 1980. Mrs. Ashley has accepted the position of Fairhaven Town Accountant after that date. Mattapoisett Selectmen expressed their appreciation of Mrs. Ashley's work for Mattapoisett and wished her well in her new job with Fairhaven.

OPEN BURNING

Selectmen were informed by the Office of Environmental Affairs of a new period for open burning to extend from January 15 through May 1st. This extends the period 6 weeks beyond the previous burning time.

BETTERMENT ASSESSMENTS

Town Counsel Donald Fleming offered the Selectmen a proposed schedule of assessments to those hooked into the sewer system. Selectmen will study the proposal and announce their decision on the matter at a later date.

MATTAPOISETT STOP ON MEXICO TREK

Tom Brownell stopped into the Selectmen's meeting to inform them that Jim Carlin, a New Jersey policeman, had traveled into Mattapoisett harbor on his motorized surfboard and had hailed Brownell at the ramp and asked where he could gas up. Tom offered him a lift to the Village Mobil Station where he picked up two gallons of gasoline. When owner Paul Bieringer heard his unusual story he refused any payment for the fuel and wished Carlin a successful trip. When Brownell brought him back to the surfboard, Carlin declared that Mattapoisett was the first town outside of Maine where he had been offered anything free. He asked directions to the Skipper. Tom told him to go out of the harbor, turn right at the end of the point of land where he would see a tower and then turn in right again. Brownell told Selectmen that Carlin was traveling down the entire coast of the eastern United States to Mexico on his open surfboat, a 4000 mile voyage, as a stunt to raise money for an ambulance in his town of Saddlebrook, New Jersey. The Selectmen made up a purse of contributions out of their own pockets to give to Brownell to take to Fairhaven to present to Carlin.

Brownell said he carried a waterproof

League of Women Voters

The Annual Winter Luncheon and Study Update of the Marion-Mattapoisett Area League of Women Voters is planned for Wednesday, January 23, at St. Gabriel's Church, South and Front Streets, Marion. This luncheon meeting is open to the public and the League will supply soup, bread and dessert as well as free baby/child sitting from 11:30 until 2. Luncheon will be served from 11:30 with the program planned to begin at 12:15. We will be discussing the League's planned activities for this year and making recommendations for programs to the National League. Our current local study areas concern education in the Old Rochester School District, health facilities in the Marion, Mattapoisett, Wareham, Rochester Area, and water supplies and quality in the entire area, and we will report on these activities as well as seek input regarding further study areas.

A Tribute

TRIBUTE TO AN UNCOMMON, COMMON MAN

Few persons influence a community or the people with whom they work to such an extent that their deaths truly create a void, "not likely to be filled again". Reverend Sydney Adams was that type of person and to me, personified "the man for all seasons". Who will forget his special knack for taking the profound changes which face us today and putting them into perspective? In a sermon about the speed of modern living, he told of two Canadian geese who were passed in flight by a single-engined jet.

One turned to the other and observed, "Boy, he can sure fly fast", to which his companion retorted, "Well, I would fly pretty fast too if my tail feathers were on fire." Syd Adams had this ability to cut things down to size with a droll story of incisive comment. And he never seemed to repeat himself. Working with him at the Counseling Center was an endless source of enjoyment, inspiration and personal enrichment. Robert Barcellos of the Standard-Times referred to him as "an example of unselfishness". That, he certainly was. But, for we who knew what he represented to the New Bedford community, he resembled the legendary Peter, the "solid rock", on which the Inter-Church Council was built. We were privileged with his presence and collectively share sadness at the loss of this uncommon, common man. Moreover, he left us a legacy to fight (with adequate knowledge) for what we believe to be right and not be swayed by the many people offering an easier way. Andrew Jackson is credited with saying, "One man with cour-

IF YOU WANT TO REDUCE THE COST OF YOUR HOME IMPROVEMENT LOAN, HERE'S ALL YOU HAVE TO PUT UP.

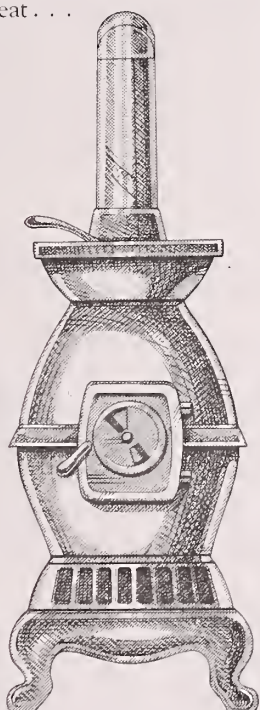

An energy-saving improvement like aluminum siding to help hold in the heat . . .

Or double-pane or storm windows all around your house . . .

Or an automatic flue damper on your furnace to cut down on heat waste . . .

Or extra insulation that can reduce your fuel bills . . .

Or maybe you'd like to try an alternate heating source like a wood burning stove. Or even solar heat.

ANNOUNCING 1/4% OFF YOUR HOME IMPROVEMENT LOAN JUST FOR SAVING ENERGY.

At Fairhaven Savings, we believe that one of the best investments you can make in your home is to make it more energy-efficient.

So if your home improvement plans include energy-saving features, we'll give you a Home Improvement Loan for a quarter of a percent less than our usual rate.

That means if you qualify, you'll be saving money twice.

You'll save on the cost of your loan. And you'll save on your heating bills.

Given the way fuel prices have been rising, that'll mean bigger and bigger savings in the years ahead.

And you know, of course, that improving your home is always a good investment. It not only makes your house more enjoyable to live in.

It also increases its value if you ever decide to sell it.

So if you want to reduce the cost of improving your home, save your energy. And we'll save you money.

"Undertaking a job of this magnitude could be suicidal," chided Mrs. O'Neill, "but the idea is a great one, and that should make it a bit easier." On the basis of last year's acceptance, Manhattan on the Rocks II is "virtually assured of capacity crowds", she added.

"Further information on the event will be available as soon as plans are finalized," she concluded.

voters for giving me six years to serve on the School Committee. It has been a rewarding experience for me and hopefully a constructive effort on behalf of the students.

Secondly, I do not intend to run for another term. I want to inspire as many candidates as possible to run for the position on the School Committee. I urge anyone who has thought of contributing to our school system in a more formal way to do so by seeking office. The Town and you will be the victor. Good luck!

To all of you, thanks again.

Heart Fund

Mrs. Michael (Kathleen) Renzi has been named the new Heart Chairman in Mattapoisett for the 1980 fund-raising drive according to Dr. Gary E. Tratt, president of the Cape and Islands Heart Association.

As Chairman, Mrs. Renzi will coordinate volunteers who will distribute information on how the Heart dollar was spent in support of research, education and community service programs.

"We're fighting to reduce early death and disability from heart disease and stroke", said Mrs. Renzi. "When your Heart volunteer calls, remember to 'Put your money where your Heart is'."

Mrs. Renzi also announced the following key committee chairmen who will serve in the February campaign: Mrs. Sally Souza, Residential; Mrs. Ellie Blackburn, Business; Mr. James Moody, Treasurer; Mrs. Sandra Dawson, Publicity.

344 students from grades 4-6 were invited to see and participate in this colorful show which was adapted from an epic folk novel that is still widely read and loved by Chinese children and adults alike.

Each class acted out an original myth that depicted how Monkey got one of his magic powers. These highly imaginative and amusing stories were made up by the children themselves under the guidance of an actor during the pre-performance workshop. In addition, each class helped move the action of the play forward by taking various parts such as: assistants to the Jade Emperor, a grove of royal peach trees, and a 100 foot snow dragon.

The play itself revolves around a funny, loveable Monkey whose arrogance continual-

WARM APPLE PIES ON A COLD WINTER'S DAY ARE GREAT!

We still have a good selection of 2nd APPLES. (Not drops, but 2nds on hand-picked apples.) There are still many varieties of #1 apples also. . . Macs, Cortland, Red & Yellow Delicious - to name a few - all kept scientifically cooled to taste "Fall Fresh". And how about some of our FARM GROWN POP-CORN? Makes a great snack while watching TV - along with a cold glass of FRESH APPLE CIDER (or hot mulled cider). WE MAKE FRESH APPLE CIDER EVERY FRIDAY!

Get your day off to a good start with some of our JAMS, JELLIES or MARMALADES on your toast or English Muffin. Perk up meals through the day with some PICKLED BEETS, ZUCCHINI RELISH, etc. There are potatoes, onions, turnips, butternut squash, sweet potatoes for your vegetable needs -

If no one is at the big building, come across to the FAIRVIEW HERBS & CRAFTS SHOP - someone there will be glad to help you. If your time allows, look around our little shop! We think it's great. See our selection of gifts and craft supplies. Ask about our CLASSES; have a cup of coffee or herb tea - we enjoy visiting with you.

Both WALTER E. TRIPP & SONS & FAIRVIEW FARMS SHOP ARE OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK - plus the Shop has classes 5 nights a week. . . and "drop-in" classes through the day.

It's a one stop shopping center for so many things - grain - wild bird seed - rock salt - chain saws - firewood - too many to list. Save gas; see us before driving to the city.

DONATION TO SMU LIBRARY

A recent donation of $5,000 will make it possible for the Southeastern Massachusetts University Library to rent best selling fiction and non-fiction hard-cover books for circulation in its "Browsing Area".

These books will be available within a few months to members of the community who cannot find them in public libraries.

The $5,000 check was presented to University Librarian Janet L. Freedman by Mrs. Margaretha E.H. Birknes, president of SMU Library Associates. The associates, formed in 1974 by a group of university and community people dedicated to helping the under-funded SMU Library, raised the amount from events sponsored by them during the previous year.

"The associates are proud to play a part in bringing the library up to acceptable standards," said Mrs. Birknes.

Ms. Freedman points out the benefits of the rental plan: "We cannot afford to buy best sellers that would be obsolete within a year or so. By renting, we can make current books available for the brief span of their popularity. The donation by the associates will enable us to add another dimension to our library services which would otherwise not be possible through state funding."

Support from the Library Associates led to the establishment of the Browsing Area in the spring of 1979. The collection provides materials to meet the leisure and extracurricular needs and interests of library users, and is developed according to requests and suggestions from the academic community. The new rental books will be added to an existing collection of paperback novels and titles on current social and political issues. Members of the community are welcome to borrow these and other works from the SMU Library if they cannot find these materials in their local public libraries.

Open Letter to the Residents of Mattapoisett

Today I am publicly announcing my intention to seek re-election to the office of Selectman in Mattapoisett this year. During my first term I have gained considerable experience in the workings of the office and it is my desire to use this knowledge and continue to serve the town I love so much for another three years.

Two significant accomplishments which I have been pleased to be part of during my first term are:

1. The successful completion of our sewer project and
2. The fact that our tax rate remained stable during this period.

However, there are many other areas which I have given my attention and will continue to in the future. For example, I am opposed to State and Federal mandates which take away home rule from those things that we can better control. As the Board's representative to the Massachusetts Selectmen's Association, I have expressed this view. I have attended all meetings and have brought back important information regarding pending legislation that would have an effect on our town.

I am also the Board's appointed member to the Plymouth County Selectmen's Association Advisory Board. Here we review budgets and take action to control expenditures in Plymouth County government. I have attended all meetings and recently was elected to serve as secretary to the Association.

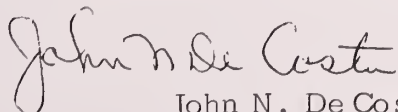

I have worked with and supported our Senior Citizens Programs. Conversely, I have supported youth programs which provide opportunities to participate in a responsible way. The protection of the Mattapoisett Water Valley, our school systems, and our police and fire departments are areas which I have actively supported.

Something that I am sure will get more attention, now that other programs are behind us, is our waterfront. This valuable natural resource, a resource that makes us unique, belongs to all of us. The protection of our marine resources and preservation of town owned waterfront properties for the benefit of our citizens is of utmost importance. We recently appointed a Harbor and Waterfront Study Committee which will begin to focus on this effort.

Finally, I am committed to find and study new ways to increase our tax base and to fight the rising cost in our town government. I will continue to work at keeping Mattapoisett a nice place to live and where our children can afford to live in years to come.

It has been an honor serving you in the Office of Selectman and I look forward to enjoying this privilege in the future. I ask for your support in my bid for re-election.

Sincerely,

John N. De Costa

ROCHESTER BOWLING LEAGUE -January 8

Gus Johnson (374) and Herb's T.V. found alleys 11 and 12 to their liking as they blanked BowlMor (Bob Jefferson 391). Sturtevant and Hook started the second round by taking two points from Nanfelts (Joel Wales 410). John Hayes led the Sturtevant bowlers with 376. A 392 by Buzzy Ladner proved to be too much for Bob Smith (369) and Marion Golf Course as Guaranteed Pest Control snatched all three points. John Cebula (412) and Henry Hartley (450) joined up to blank Bourassa Hardware whose top man was Jerry Bourassa with 335.

Wright Lecture - Tabor

The Cum Laude Society at Tabor invites the public to attend a slide lecture entitled "Organic Architecture: Frank Lloyd Wright". The program will be on Tuesday evening, January 22nd, at 7:30 in Lyndon South Auditorium.

Mrs. Wendy Bidstrup, the lecturer, is well-known in the New Bedford community for her extensive knowledge of art history. She has taught and lectured for ten years and her presentations are educational and entertaining. She received her B.A. in Fine Arts from Wells College and is currently residing at Tabor Academy where Mr. Bidstrup teaches.

Lions Club

CALENDAR DRIVE

The annual Mattapoisett Lions' Club Calendar Drive has begun and the Mattapoisett Lions will be visiting the many homes in the community from now through January 31.

This project is one of the major fund-raisers the Lions have. The proceeds this past year have been used to send a handicapped child to Easter Seal camp, provide educational benefits for a local youngster, and made available to the community the Lions Eye Mobile at no charge. These are just a few instances of the manner in which your contributions are utilized.

The Lions Calendar is most convenient to list those important dates such as birthdays, meeting dates, anniversaries and remembrances.

Won't you please watch for your neighborly Lion and order your 1980-81 calendar when he calls?

If you prefer, you may contact the following team captains and they will be most pleased to see that your order is properly handled: Jerry DuPont (758-2561), Gene Pursley (758-3329), Mike Renzi (758-6507), Bruce Rocha (758-3539) or Ken Watjen (758-4626). Your participation will be most appreciated.

Youth Hockey

The second half of the Suburban Youth Hockey at Hetland Rink got underway the weekend of January 5-6. There are new ice times for the teams, so check your new schedules carefully. The practice times at Tabor have been changed also.

The only two teams reporting for the first weekend were the Mites and the Squirts.

The results:

MITES: Rochester vs Fairhaven. Rochester Mites lost to a mighty Fairhaven team 10-3. Scoring for RYHA was Jim Gardner, once unassisted and the second assisted by Jeff Lawrence. Sean Shaw scored the third goal unassisted. Scott Hartley was in goal for the Mites.

SQUIRTS: The Rochester Squirts held

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR CRAFT CENTER

Cyrus D. Lipsitt of Marion and Arlington has been named executive director of the Worcester Craft Center, Worcester, Mass. Mr. Lipsitt, a ceramist, graphic designer, teacher, and arts administrator, was most recently the director of the Society of Arts and Crafts, Boston. In his six years as director of the Society he transformed that organization's image as a forgotten institution to one of Boston's most important showplaces for craftspeople. Mr. Lipsitt has also served in various leadership capacities with other

Mr. Lipsitt's plans for the Worcester Craft Center include the development of broader representation of U.S. crafts through exhibitions and promotional activities, an expansion of the educational programs to include children's programs, expanded professional studies, and further development of the continuing education series. The Center's facility, a twenty-seven year old building, has eight studios offering thirty-three craft courses, a large exhibition gallery where major craft exhibits appear six times annually, and a craft shop which represents the work of 300 professional United States craftspeople.

The Craft Center annually sponsors a major professional juried craft fair in May where 125 U.S. craftspeople are selected to show and sell their craft work. While

SHIPBUILDERS OF MATTAPOISETT

By Charles S. Mendell, Jr.

As this would indicate, a younger crop of shipbuilders was appearing. Two of these were the Cannon brothers, Ebenezer Jr. and Eliakim; and it was the descendants of these two, along with those of Gideon Barstow, who made Mattapoisett famous for shipbuilding. For three generations Cannons and Barstows ran most of the shipyards and furnished the finest ship carpenters. This hereditary craftsmanship is most interesting, and reminds one of the old guilds in Europe, where the secrets of each craft were handed down for generations from father to son.

After the Revolution a few names of vessels built in Mattapoisett begin to appear. The first, in 1778, was the sloop Eliza, built in Aucoot by Abner Pease, probably to carry salt from the Hiller saltworks in that vicinity. Abner Pease continued to own a small shipyard there, building sloops and schooners, until 1804, when he moved to North Fairhaven where he built vessels for many years.

Likewise, we begin to get some record of vessels built on the Mattapoissett River. According to tradition, vessels were built there during the Revolution which were used to dodge the British warships in Long Island Sound. There were several small shipyards along the River; but the last and best known was on the East bank only a few rods below the present Herring Weir, and run by George Washington Gifford, the grandfather of Henry Rogers. Only a few sloops and schooners of his building are known, except the Brig Brutus, of 200 tons, built in 1801. Tradition has it that when she was launched, she slid across the river with such rapidity that she stuck firmly in the mud on the opposite side, and it took six weeks to get her out and down into deep water. This trouble was prophetic, for two years later she was lost at sea. Her master, Capt. Aseph Price, who had been master of the ship William and Mary of New Bedford, was lost with her.

After the Revolution, shipbuilding in the village yards evidently started in where it had left off, and began to flourish. In 1786 Minister Le Baron wrote: "Navigation is so much the object of our attention as to be a great disadvantage to our husbandry ... we have about 4 vessels employed in the whaling fishery, about the principal source of our specie. Shipbuilding and iron are two branches of manufactory not unprofitable. Scattered records are being brought to light revealing, so far, some 25 vessels built in the next twenty years for New Bedford, Nantucket, Newport, Providence, New London and New York.

An old account book in the Whaling Museum gives the first vessel, whose name is known, to be built specifically for a New Bedford merchant. She was the Brig Thomas, built by Captain Wilson Barstow in 1805. She was used in the merchant trade between New Bedford and New York for a number of years, and then seems to have been sold back to Mattapoisett.

From 1800 to 1812, that is, just before the war with England, this waterfront became a beehive of activity. Meager records alone give three, four, and five vessels a year; and that these are but a fraction is shown by an article in the Massachusetts Historical Society's Collection for 1815, which states:

"At this harbor (Mattapoisett) there is an increasing village of perhaps 40 houses, 3 or 4 wharves, a ropewalk, and shipyards, where in 1811 . . . upwards of 8000 tons of shipping were constructed. Five vessels were ship rigged, and of the burthen of 800 or more tons."

Now much as I would like to believe it, that "800 tons" seems as if it must be a misprint. That would be twenty ships of 400 tons each, and even in the balmy days later on this figure was never reached. But it may be so. There were at least six shipyards going full blast, and if they built only three vessels apiece, as often happened in later years, this total would nearly be reached. And it is known that at this time William Moore was building 400-ton ships for the New York-European trade. There is a record of two of these, the Andes and the Xenophon, in 1810 alone.
